COMING SALE OF RED CROSS STAMPS

During this week the Red Cross stamps will be put on sale on Kauai. These stamps are issued every year at about Christmas time by the American Red Cross Society, and the proceeds from their sale are used in the fight against tuberculosis. 10% is returned to the source to cover expenses of printing, distribution, etc., and 90% is used locally. The sales here in previous years have ranged between $100 and $200. It is hoped this year to far exceed this amount, for with the coming of the new tuberculosis hospital there will be many needs to meet. There is also a growing need of a local nurse for each district of the island to do general nursing as well as to follow up tubercular cases in camps and schools.

Would it be possible to make the fund this year large enough to form the nucleus of a fund for a Kauai District Nursing Association?

The sale will be conducted by Mrs. Chas. A. Rice.

The Tip Top Building

The new Tip Top building in Lihue contains, besides the pretty theater and its various accessories, a shoe store, a double cafe, a barber shop, a furniture display room, a tailor shop and the photo establishment of J. Senda. Other enterprises will open up in the building shortly. The place seems destined to become quite an addition to the business center.

A Road Accident

A collision occurred in Waimea on Thursday between a Ford truck of the Waimea Wine Company and an automobile of the Waimea Stables driven by Chaffeur Goodwin, in which the front wheel of the latter struck the rear wheel of the former, throwing the Japanese driver from his seat and hurting him considerably. Goodwin took the Japanese to the hospital.

ELEELE FOLK HAVE A CHURCH DINNER

The promised church dinner of the Eleele Union church, which was organized a few months ago, came off on Friday evening last at the home of Captain and Mrs. Leavitt, of Port Allen. All the members of the church, together with two or three specially invited guests, sat down at the long table in the spacious lanai, overlooking the sloping lawn and the moonlit sea. The dinner was a delicious one, with some toothsome dainties as one gets only in private homes where good cooking prevails; while many a good story and much sparkling repartee went the rounds.

After the dinner-things were cleared away, the balance of the evening was devoted to the discussion of the affairs of the church, and the more complete elaboration of plans for activity, with the pastor, Rev. J. M. Lydgate, in the chair, Mr. Chas. F. Loomis was elected Deacon; Mrs. R. D. Moler and Miss Janet Hastie, Deaconesses, and Mr. K. Roendahl choir leader. Committees on finance, music, membership and church at tendance were also appointed.

Provision was made for regular quarterly church meetings for the consideration of business, the hearing of reports, and the furthering of the interests of the church.

The matter of more frequent services came up for discussion, and it was felt that in default of a regular weekly service a class for bible study would be profitable and enjoyable. A committee was appointed to consider and report on this matter.

Mrs. Rice Honored

Mrs. Albert S. Wilcox gave a poi luncheon at Kihohana last Thursday in honor of Mrs. Philip Rice, who returned a few days previously after an absence of more than two years in Chicago. Those present were: Mesdames Philip Rice, C. A. Rice, S. W. Wilcox, G. P. Wilcox, C. H. Wilcox, W. H. Rice, Jr., J. H. Coney, J. M. Lydgate, F. L. Putman, Swan, W. H. Grote, W. N. Stewart, Robertson; Mrs. Anna Wright and Miss Wilson, of Honolulu, who are visiting Mrs. C. A. Rice; Misses Elsie and Mabel Wilcox, Lulu Weber and Reiser.

After luncheon bridge was played and the first prize went to Mrs. Philip Rice, the second to Mrs. W. H. Grote and the third to Mrs. Anna Wright.

Wm. B. Lymer, of the law firm of Lindsay & Lymer, Honolulu, came to Lihue on Wednesday and returned to Honolulu by the Maui Friday night. He was over in connection with a case before the Circuit Court.

NAWILIWILI HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

About 3 o'clock in the morning of Thursday last fire broke out in one of the apartments of the almost continuous block between Hamano's store and the Nawiliwili stream, in Nawiliwili, and in a short time all of the buildings in that section were reduced to ashes.

The principal buildings destroyed were: The ice cream parlor and general store of Nakashima; the general store of Sung Fook Lung; the premises of H. Matsumoto, chauffeur for the Nawiliwili garage; the tailoring establishment of M. Nakao, and the Aloha Hotel, of which Higuchi is the proprietor.

When the alarm of fire was given all the residents of the locality turned out. The buildings were old and dry, however, and, worst of all, the water mains failed; and what little water was available was used to prevent the spread of the flames across the street and to the building next to the Hamano store. Men with brooms and a bucket brigade saved the Hamano store and checked the fire at that point.

There was great excitement when the Aloha Hotel went down, for the fire was then at its hottest and it seemed certain that the buildings across the road would also be ignited. The bucket brigade proved, however, equal to the occasion.

Sung Fook Lung store, in the basement of which the fire started, carried insurance on the stock of merchandise. A. R. Gurrey, Territorial insurance adjuster, who now lives at Makaweli, has spent much of the time since the fire in Lihue and Nawiliwili, investigating the cause and for the purpose of adjusting the claim of the storekeeper.

Historical Society

A meeting of the Kauai Historical Society will be held at the Lihue Library Thursday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The subjects will be: "The Kawaihau Hui," presented by Judge Chas. S. Dole; "Early History of the Catholic Mission on Kauai," by Father Reginald; "Notes on Wailua," by Rev. J. M. Lydgate.

This will be the first session following the summer vacation and should prove quite interesting and instructive.

Forbes And Wharves

The Star-Bulletin has the following to say concerning the results of the recent visit of Superintendent Forbes to Kauai:

Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, returned Saturday morning from Kauai where he was inspecting the island with a view to needed improvements to be brought up at the next legislature.

Forbes stated that he found necessity for eight miles of homestead roads on the Garden Island and that he will recommend appropriations for them. He will file a report with the commissioner of public lands.

Waterfront improvements which he considered while on the island were several in number, including a wharf at Kapaa to handle homestead cane. Several bridges will be necessary in the road construction as planned and armories at Waimea and Lihue are also much desired.

Miss L. Clemons, said to be a distant relative of the late Samuel L. Clemons (Mark Twain), completed a tour of Kauai last week and returned to Honolulu Saturday night.

FILIPINO SHOTS TWO IN HANAPEPE

Hanapepe was the scene at about 3:30 yesterday afternoon of another Filipino murder, and great excitement prevailed in the little town the rest of the day and last night.

The name of the man killed was Dionicio Palad, and the badly wounded party is Agaton. In the Waimea jail is Francisco Esquilo, who is charged by the police with shooting both men.

Sheriff Rice rushed to the scene immediately after the shooting and empaneled a coroner's jury to inquire into the cause of death of Dionicio.

The tragedy occurred in a house next to the Japanese school, in Hanapepe. It appears that the wife of Francisco Esquilo was sent to Honolulu on Saturday, and a rumor was around that Palad and Agaton had sent her away. Esquilo called on the two men to know if the story was correct, but both disclaimed any knowledge of the disappearance of the woman. It is alleged that Esquilo pretended to leave but as a matter of fact stopped outside and heard the two men talking together about sending the woman away.

It is claimed that Esquilo then went to a store in Hanapepe where he purchased a 32-calibre revolver and cartridges. Returning to the house he charged the men with sending his wife away and a fight ensued in which there is a disconnected story of a knife play. In the melee, Esquilo is alleged to have opened fire. Dionicio Palad was shot twice, the last bullet entering the neck and passing upward into the brain, causing death. The man Agaton was also shot twice, the first time in the arm and the second in the neck. He is in the Waimea hospital.

A Filipino officer called "Arizon" arrested the alleged murderer and took him to Waimea.

Resolutions Acknowledged

The secretary of the Kauai Chamber of Commerce this morning received from the Appointment Clerk of the Department of Justice acknowledgement of receipt of the resolutions adopted by the Chamber at Waimea in October recommending the reappointment of Judge Dickey to succeed himself as judge of the court of this circuit. The letter is non-committal as to what the Department may do, the main part of it saying:

"The Attorney-General directs me to acknowledge receipt of your communication addressed to him recommending the reappointment of Hon. Lyle A. Dickey to the position of Judge of the Fifth Circuit Court of Hawaii."

Mr. Forbes On Kauai

Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, came over on the Kinau Wednesday morning and looked into the matters of wharves, homestead roads and National Guard armories. Upon his investigation he will make recommendations to the Governor and Legislature in regard to appropriations for the next biennial period.

Boys Elected Wilson

Mr. Loomis, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. organizations on Kauai, had a mock election for president among the Japanese, Filipinos, etc., belonging to his band. Wilson carried every organization, some by large majorities. "He has kept us out of war" was the argument behind the vote.

GRAND OPENING OF REGULAR SESSION TIP TOP THEATER OF MOKIHANA CLUB

The beautiful Tip Top theater, in Lihue, was thrown open Wednesday evening for the first time. Every seat in the place was sold and the audience was composed of people all the way from Waimea to Hanalei. Music was supplied by an orchestra of Hawaiian musicians, the orchestr-piano not yet being in shape for service.

During the evening the lighting effects were displayed by Mr. E. O. Thurtell and the various curtains were also shown. A number of prizes were distributed to holders of lucky tickets.

People attending the opening entertainment were delighted with the arrangement of the new theater. It is quite the neatest house of its kind in the Territory, barring only the Royal Hawaiian opera house at Honolulu, perhaps.

Before and after the show the Tip Top Cafe, which adjoins the theater, did a rushing business.

"I was simply delighted with the patronage given the Tip Top on the
